Principal welcomes Prof. B P Sinha
in the Tech Fest 2010

Audience listening the talk

A two day intra college technical festival “TECH STORM 2.1” was organized in our institute. This was a joint effort of the faculty members of tech fest committee and the enthusiastic student volunteers of our institute. The programme started on the 9th October 2010 with an inaugural function. Prof. Bhabani Prasad Sinha, Head of Advanced Computing and Microelectronics unit at Indian Statistical Institute, graced the occasion by his presence as chief guest. The function started with the lighting of lamp by the Chief Guest, the Principal, the Dean, the Registrar and the other respected teachers followed by a melodious Swaraswati Bandana presented by Mr. Sabyasachi Chakraborty.

Judges of debate competition

The Principal, Prof. (Dr.) Sutapa Mukherjee made the welcome address. The Dean, Prof. B. N. Chatterji highlighted the importance of technical fest and introduced us with the chief guest. Prof. B. P. Sinha, in his address expressed his appreciation. Vote of thanks was delivered by our Registrar, Prof. (Dr.) Sandip Ghosh. “Tech Storm 2.1” started with the first event “NIRMAN”. It was a group event in which the participants developed a model, exhibited and demonstrated the same in presence of judges - Prof. Sinha, the Dean and the Principal of BPPIMT. All models were certified as excellent and innovative. The first prize was bagged by ECE 2nd year students – Md. Wasim Sayed, Nasibullah and Nazimul Islam Gazi for their model “Smart Switching System”. The second event of the day was “Socrates Playground” – a group debate competition between six groups, each group consisting of four participants. The whole programme was coordinated by Ms. Kakali Bhattacharyya and Ms. Dolonchampa Das. The final round topic was “Are social networking sites doing us any good or are they just a sophisticated way of stalking people?” CSE 3rd year students – Anirban Banerjee, Aritro Chakraborty, Anwita Bhatterjee and Prathana Chatterjee won the first prize. Afternoon event was mathematical game competition – “Omega Trix”. The event became so popular among the students that a huge number of students from all sections participated in it. The competition was of two levels. First level was eliminatory where the students had to solve two “Kenken” and two “En route” problems. The qualified students of 1st level appeared in the final level where they solved a set of tricky mathematical puzzles within a speculated time limit.

On the second day the events were Robot games (Robotrix and Crossfire), Software games (Virtuo Combat), C-coding competition (Fanta-C) and web page designing (Webstar). Robotrix was an autonomic robot game where the participants had to build an autonomous robot that reached a specified point in a matrix by procuring the information of the number of rows and columns while traversing the path. The event was won by Arnab Das (ECE, 4th year), Samantak Das (ECE, 4th year), Debanka Bhattacharjee (ECE, 4th year) and Sangram Laha (EE, 4th year).

In Crossfire the participants had to build manually controlled robot which could traverse a given path to reach a point and on reaching the point the robot had to face a rival robot. The event was won by Rajeev Ranjan Singh (IT, 1st year), Sourav Karmakar (CSE, 1st year), Sourav Das (CSE, 1st year) and Soham Pramanik (CSE, 1st year). Webstar was won by Kaushik Das (IT 3rd year) and Abarna Sarkar (IT 3rd year).

Two different software games were arranged for participants: FIFA 2008 for one to one challenge which was won by Argha Dutta of ECE 1st year and COUNTERSTRIKE version 1.6 was for groups' participation and was won by the group of Madhur Mohta (CSE, 4th year), Arindam Roychoudhury (CSE, 4th year), Debojyoti Chakraborty (CSE, 4th year), Sarvesh Bhagat (CSE, 4th year) and Suman Kr Saha (EE, 2nd year). Fanta-C was two-member C-coding group contest of three rounds. In the final round the qualified teams prepared a C program to satisfy the given objective. The champions for this event were Arnab De Sarkar (MCA 2nd year) and Vashkar Bhattacharjee (MCA 2nd year). There was also a two-day group photography contest “SNAPIT”. The theme was “NATURE - in and around our college” which was announced on the first day after inaugural session and the participants were told to submit the photographs on the second day afternoon. All the photographs were judged by an expert Mr. Sandipan Majumdar, a travel journalist and photographer. The first prize went to Prosenjit Paul (IT 2nd year) and Rittwik Ghosh (IT 2nd year). A small cultural programme was arranged by the students in the evening. Thereafter the winners of all the events were announced and the medals and certificates were given. Finally, the TECHSTORM 2.1 wound up with a vote of thanks given by Dr. Rupa Pal.
